Hi Richard
Thank you for your email response.

I did not send the letter to re-open the rights and wrongs of One Barnet. I wrote to you about how the message of the JR was being promoted and asking you to reflect on how this has impacted on staff morale. It is on this point I would like a response.

Best wishes

Dear John,

Thank you for the letter that you sent. I did not believe that you, your union or very many members of it would have been involved in the recent application for a judicial review.

Whatever has been decided will go ahead and whilst there will be disadvantage for some staff members the programmed savings will actually protect jobs. Any plan B is going to be pretty tough on numbers as it seeks the One Barnet total savings required.

It is interesting to reflect on the costs of this recent legal action and the costs of the delay to implementation. Think how this money will end up being recovered in the face of the obligation to balance the budget.

regards

Richard
